

EASTER MESSAGES 2010
DON'T MISS THE OBVIOUS!
MATTHEW 21:1-11

The Heart of the Matter

Who doesn't love the glorious celebration of the resurrection? But in our haste to get to Easter Sunday, we sometimes miss something significant that happened a week earlier—the day we label “Palm Sunday.” The people of Jesus's day missed the obvious that day because they looked too far back. They could only focus on the words of the strong-voiced prophet and the promise of a coming King, “His kingdom will have no end!” (Luke 1:33). There was no room in their thinking for a crucified King. We miss the obvious today because we look too far ahead. We focus so much on the angel's glorious shout at the tomb, “He is not here; He has risen!” (Luke 24:6 NIV), that we see little value in standing at the foot of the cross. There's no room in our thinking for a suffering Savior. Let's correct our pattern and pause today to look at the scene that started it all.

Discovering the Way

1. You'll Miss the Obvious if You Set Your Mind on Horizontal Interests (Matthew 21:1-11)

If people had been paying attention that day, they would have noticed that Jesus did a strange thing by entering Jerusalem seated on a donkey. What is that about?

2. Don't Miss God's Obvious Expression of Love in the Sacrifice of Jesus (Psalm 118:25-26; Luke 19:38-41)

It's not surprising that in their distraction, no one noticed the love and grief Jesus expressed for the people He had come to save but who rejected Him as Savior.

Starting Your Journey

The Lord isn't angry with or unconcerned about you. Remember, He wept and grieved over those who missed the opportunity to turn to Him for salvation. Don't you miss it too.

Tools for Digging Deeper

Easter Messages 2010
by Charles R. Swindoll
CD set

Sunday to Sunday: A Pictorial Journey Through the Passion Week
by Charles R. Swindoll and Insight for Living
paperback book

Behold . . . the Man!
The Pathway of His Passion
by Charles R. Swindoll
paperback book

To order any of these related resources, call 0800-915-9364
or visit www.insightforliving.org.uk